THE FOREWORD

"MEET THE WOLFPACK" has been prepared this year with the idea of giving press, radio and other publicity mediums information concerning the 1951 North Carolina State football team. It contains a ready-reference guide to players, coaches, schedule, statistical data and past records along with other aspects of the football program at the institution. We hope that it will meet the requirements for which it is intended.

We, at State, extend to members of the press and radio a hearty welcome to visit our campus and see our football team in action. The offices of the Athletic Publicity Department are located in Room 124 of the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum on the college campus and we welcome your visit at any time.

Our press box is located over the West Stands in Riddick Stadium, providing three tiers of space for radio and newspaper coverage. We shall be happy to make arrangements for wire service, pre-game line-ups, names, numbers and any other information that you may require in connection with game coverage. It is our intention to do our utmost to make your visit with us the finest possible.

If you desire any information not contained in this brochure, please do not hesitate to write, wire or call us. We can supply glossy print 8 x 10 photographs on the majority of the 1951 squad. A mat service is also available to those papers who desire this type of picture reproduction. If you have any suggestions as to how we may improve our service to newspapers and radio stations we will be glad to give our fullest cooperation.

Since the space in our press box is rather limited we would appreciate it very much if members of the working press and radio would request space well in advance of scheduled contests, not later than Wednesday preceding the week of the game. In certain instances it may be necessary, because of limited space, to refuse working accommodations in the press box, but we will be happy to make space available in the stands when such press space is not available.

Inquiries concerning complimentary tickets for press and radio representatives will be given every consideration, but we must impress upon these representatives that our supply is limited and first requests will be given first priority. When our supply is exhausted it is not possible for us to secure additional tickets. We must ask that only designated press and radio representatives request complimentary tickets and other such requests will not be honored.

THE CHANCELLOR OF N. C. STATE COLLEGE

COL. JOHN W. HARRELSON
B.E., M.E., LL.D.

Sketch of N. C. State College

By RUDOLPH PATE

The North Carolina State College, long a leader in technological research and education, is today one of America's great land-grant institutions.

Moving along with its varied athletic program are hundreds of other projects and academic functions, all designed to advance living standards and to broaden the scope of knowledge in many spheres.

Its brilliant record of achievements in the past will perhaps be surpassed many times in the future when the present $15,000,000 expansion program as authorized by the North Carolina General Assembly has been completed. The increased facilities will enable the College to extend its services to thousands of other citizens engaged in countless professions and occupations.

The 1951-52 school year marks State College's 63rd year of service to the people. N. C. State, now an imposing center of learning, first opened its doors to students on October 3, 1889.

The institution stands as a living monument to a group of far-visioned men who, roughly 70 years ago, aroused the State with their inspired crusade for more technological training for North Carolina's young men and women.

Establishment of the institution was due largely to the militant efforts of Col. Leonidas L. Polk, hard-hitting editor of The Progressive Farmer, the Watauga Club, and the provisions of the Morrill Act of 1862. From its humble beginning, the college has marched straight ahead to take a position of leadership among the institutions of technology in the United States.

State College has grown from its one building in 1889 to a physical plant valued in excess of $12,000,000 today, with a record-breaking building program now in progress. The enrollment has advanced from 72 students—who reported to President Alexander Q. Holladay during the first academic year—to over 4,000.

The teaching faculty has jumped from President Holladay's original staff of six to approximately 441 now. Over 1,000 persons are now employed on the campus.

Many agricultural, engineering, industrial, and textile leaders have joined hands to enlarge the facilities and strengthen the faculty of State College through the foundations. They have organized and are supporting the Agricultural Foundation, the Architectural Foundation, Engineering Foundation, the Textile Foundation, and the Dairy Foundation. These organizations are supplementing State funds in paying the salaries of many top-ranking scientists, engineers, textile authorities, and other leading educators and research men at the college.

As a result of the foundation work, State College now has several eminent faculty and staff members that it would not have been able to obtain otherwise.

Adjoining the campus to the west are 456 acres including the college orchards, gardens, poultry plant and farms, and the Central State Agricultural Experiment Station. About one mile west of the campus, the institution has acquired 1,300 acres which are maintained as livestock farms by the Department of Animal Husbandry and Dairying.

The college's main divisions include the School of Agriculture, the School of Engineering, the School of Forestry, the School of Textiles, the School of Education, the School of Design, the Graduate School, the Basic Division and the Summer School. The Department of Military Science and Tactics, providing ROTC training for the students, consistently has received an annual rating of "excellent" from the U. S. Department of the Army and the Air Force.

Principal landmarks of the campus include Holladay Hall, the school's first building; the birthplace of Andrew Johnson, 17th President of the United States; Memorial Tower, impressive monument to the State College alumni who served in World War I; the home of the chancellor; Pullen Hall, named in honor of R. Stanhope Pullen, who donated the land for the original campus; a memorial to the 13 original colonies; and other sites of interest.

State College has more than 25,000 living alumni, many of whom are nationally known for their accomplishments in industry, science, military affairs, agriculture, education, and political life. More than 6,000 alumni of the school—most of whom were officers—served in the armed forces during World War II. Over 300 of the service men died in battle during the progress of the war.

TICKET INFORMATION

Ticket orders for North Carolina State's four home contests in Riddick Stadium should be mailed to: Ticket Manager, Coliseum Box Office, Box 5905, Raleigh, N. C. and all checks and money orders should be made payable to the Coliseum Box Office. Twenty-five cents should be added to the total cost of all tickets for registered mailing and handling. All home games are priced at $3.00 for reserved seats with the exception of the Catawba game which is priced at $2.50.

Tickets for all games away from home are also available at the Coliseum Box Office, but in a limited quantity. However, all orders for games away from home will be filled as long as the supply lasts. A complete list of prices for all games may be found inside the front cover of this brochure.

The 1951 Prospectus

By ED STOREY

Athletic Publicity Director

One year ago there were few observers who could have foreseen Coach Beattie Feathers undermanned Wolfpack winning five games and gaining one tie in ten outings, but such was the accomplishment of the squad which on more than one occasion could not field three complete teams.

Based strictly on a paper analysis of the team's possibilities for the season ahead, there is every indication that State can be a much improved team over last season and if a few of those elusive breaks come the way of the Wolfpack, the season's record should be even better.

Factually State's numbers will be increased by the return of some 22 lettermen from last year's amazing outfit, but it's still problematical how some of these men will perform. There'll be more squad depth to back up the veterans with approximately 15 capable sophomores and a dozen freshmen on hand for relief assignments. The big load, however, must be carried by those who have the know-how, gained from actual experience.

A breakdown of the veterans returning indicates even more promise. Each position will have at least two holdovers with the exception of center. Here, however, a real promising sophomore, Junior Pierce, is rated as top-notch support for three-year veteran Tom Tofaute.

In the backfield, for example, two proven veterans, Alex Webster and Ted Potts, will be top men at the tailback spot. Webster is a powerful runner, good passer and kicker. Potts is a great passer and can hold his own in the running and kicking departments. Webster at 210-pounds, stands six-feet, three inches and is the biggest man ever to run at tailback for the Wolfpack. He was nothing short of sensational in the off-season intra-squad game, scoring four touchdowns and passing for a fifth. Potts, a 175-pounder, didn't get much opportunity to show his stuff last year, but earned a monogram as an understudy to Ed Mooney. He has the goods to deliver and will be counted on extensively.

The other backfield positions are well balanced with material. Captain Jim O'Rourke is the leading fullback candidate. He averaged nearly four yards per carry on 117 tries last year and despite his lack of size can hit hard. He'll likely do the major portion of the offensive work. Another fullback letterman is 220-pound Harvey Yeates, whose chief forte is as a defensive line-backer, but Harvey has power and may be used on offense more often in '51. At wingback two veterans, Jimmy Smith and George McArthur will divide offensive and defensive work. Both know their job. Smith is a fine little runner and McArthur one of the best pass-defense men in the business. At blocking back State's two great performers, Vitus Kaiser and Ray Barkouskie, can hold their own with the best in the Southern Conference. Barkouskie converted nine of eleven extra point tries and does plenty of defensive work as a line-backer. Kaiser is a work-horse on offense and a good pass defender.

For the most part the eight backfield veterans will handle the jobs on the '51 Wolfpack, but there are some bright spots among the newcomers. Fullback George Suda, a sophomore, is a comer at this position and can tackle hard and move fast. Both Hal McCarther and Paul O'Hara, a freshman and sophomore respectively, should see action at the tailback post, while Tommy Swanger and Johnny Steele, two sophs, can be capable wingback replacements. At blocking back Ralph Martini and Frank Strachota, two sophs, are rated as replacements for Kaiser and Barkouski, but both will have to improve to see much action.

In the line the Wolfpack should be capable of holding its own, barring any flurry of injuries, which have proven costly to the team in the past.

Tackle Elmer Costa, undoubtedly one of the greatest linemen in State history and a sure-fire All-America candidate, will anchor the forward wall. Costa made the Chicago Tribune All-Players All-America last year and Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" all over the nation Oct. 21. Along with Costa are 14 other veterans, including Fred Beaver, Jim Hillman, J. C. Britt and James Swart at the tackles, Vince Bagonis, Walter Schacht, Bill Cox, and John Nicholson at the guards, Tom Tofaute at center and Dave Butler, Bernie Allman and Steve Kosilla on the end.

If one position can be considered the strongest in the line it should be at tackle. The guards are well-versed and the center spot well-manned. Although Butler, Allman and Kosilla are veterans at end, State still needs defensive strength here. The loss of Captain Tony Romanowsky and Roland Simon from the squad via graduation could prove costly although there are several sophomores who might help fill the gaps. Notable among the newcomers are Jack Thompson, and Paul Smith, both very promising sophs and one freshman, George Hall.

The sophomores and freshmen may be the key to just how far the Wolfpack can go in '51. The front line material of lettermen will, of course, have the big job, but the reserves are of major importance in this day of platoon systems. The newcomers are promising, but lack the experience necessary to make them first-line material. There, of course, may be one or two exceptions to this rule, but it will take a lot of work for the new men to step into the Wolfpack attack and it may be mid-season before their value is known.

Coach Feathers has proven in the past that he can turn in a masterful job with a small squad. With added material this year he may surprise a lot of people and State could pull off a major upset or two during the year. The coaching staff he has assembled will be one of State's best. Horace Hendrickson, the ex-Duke freshman mentor, is undoubtedly one of the best men in his profession in the nation and along with Al Rotella, line coach and assistants Gwynn Fletcher and Dick Peacock, the Wolfpack staff is well-manned.

The tried and proven single-wing will continue as State's method of attack this year with plans for a switch to the split-T-formation now abandoned. But the 1951 State team will likely be a more deceptive aggregation, combining a lot of reverses and tricky ball-handling with a well-balanced passing and kicking game. Feathers has a few new tricks in his bag for the season and while the single-wing attack will be the basic system, there'll be plenty of variations for the spectators.

There's nothing "taylor-made" about the Wolfpack's 10-game schedule. To win half the games against the eight Southern Conference foes and two outsiders will prove to be a rough task, but State has the equipment it lacked in manpower last year and things are looking-up on the West Raleigh campus. No one can forecast just what lies ahead, but the Wolfpack of 1951 is certain to be a dangerous opponent for anyone and given a break or two should improve on last year's five wins, four losses and a tie.

MEET NORTH CAROLINA STATE'S DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

ROY B. CLOGSTON

ROY B. CLOGSTON
Athletic Director

After three years at the helm of N. C. State's athletic program, Roy Bennett Clogston has shown that he knows his way around. His popularity has grown by leaps and bounds and everywhere he has made additional friends for the school's athletic teams.

Taking over the reins at State on August 1, 1948 Clogston found many problems confronting the program, but with a systematic effort he set about the task of building Wolfpack teams and facilities to the point where today they are considered among the best in the Southern Conference.

Under Clogston's administration the huge William Neal Reynolds Coliseum was completed and readied for the 1949-50 basketball season. It was largely through his personal efforts that the first contest was staged in the structure on December 1, 1949.

Clogston has untiringly devoted his time to the progress of athletics at State. He has been instrumental in helping round out the schedule of intercollegiate contests for State teams and through his efforts a full-time tennis and soccer coach was added to the Wolfpack staff. Not only is Clogston vitally interested in the major sports on the campus, but he is a close follower of the so-called minor sports of swimming, track, tennis, golf, soccer and wrestling.

A graduate of Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., Clogston is a native of Ballston Lake, N. Y. He holds a degree in physical education from Springfield and a Master's degree in physical education from New York University.

Clogston's background in college athletics is extensive. For nearly 20 years he was director of athletics at St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y. and during his tenure there established St. Lawrence as one of the leading small colleges in national athletic circles. At St. Lawrence he served as head football coach as well as golf and wrestling mentor.

During World War II Clogston saw extensive service with the Navy. He served as administrative officer under Commander Tom Hamilton in the far-famed Hamilton-program which brought recreation facilities to the far corners of the world. He also served as rehabilitation officer on Guam and several other bases in the South Pacific. Clogston left the service with the rank of commander and is still active in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

"Roy" as Clogston is known by all his friends lends a personal interest in all of the school's athletic teams. He participates in tennis, swimming and golf in his spare moments and shoots in the low 80's on the golf course. Clogston is a keen judge of athletic talent and has recommended several top stars to State coaches.

Clogston is also active in the civic life of the community. He is a member of the Lions and Elks Clubs, serves as a member of the Southern Conference Basketball Committee and is on the National Collegiate Athletic Association's committee for Physical Education, Health and Recreation. During the past summer Clogston took a course in Animal Husbandry in the School of Agriculture.

During the past year Clogston joined the ranks of the benedicts as he married the former Ruby Garrison. The Clogstons make their home in Raleigh on Glenwood Avenue Extension.

DR. H. A. FISHER, Chairman of N. C. State Athletic Council and ROY B. CLOGSTON

WILLIS R. CASEY

Assistant Athletic Director and Swimming Coach

Jack-of-all trades on the State athletic staff is Willis Casey, who has one of the most impressive records as a swimming coach of any tank mentor in the Southern Conference. His teams year after year have always been in contention for the loop title and during his four seasons as top man of the Wolfpack mermen he has never finished lower than second place in the conference. Last year his State club had a 10-2 mark.

WILLIS R. CASEY

Besides handling the State swimming team, Casey doubles in brass as assistant athletic director, assistant track and cross country coach, director of the Southern Conference Cross-Country Championships, tournament manager of the Dixie Basketball Classic, and a dozen other jobs too numerous to mention. If there's truly a jack-of-all trades in the coaching profession it's Mr. Casey.

Willis is a graduate of the University of North Carolina where he majored in Physical Education. He was also a championship swimmer in his undergraduate days. Casey is married to the former Ethel Laughlin, who was one of Eastern North Carolina's finest feminine swimmers. She is a graduate of Meredith College. They have one son, Bobby, four years old.

This year Casey's State swimming team will have to rely strongly on inexperienced sophomores and a few lettermen holdovers. Willis sums up the prospects for the season thusly, "We will not be as strong as in past seasons, but with a few breaks we may be capable of winning half of our meets. We'll miss Bill Ward in the free-style and will not have as much strength on our relay team, but our boys are working hard and may spring a few surprises."

Casey is vitally interested in the so-called minor sports at State as well as football, baseball and basketball. His initiative in starting the North Carolina Cross-Country and Track Championships have brought two outstanding events to the State campus. He has been praised highly for his work with both track and cross-country and follows both sports with the same interest that he has always had in his own swimming teams. Casey was recently elected secretary of the Southern Conference Cross-Country Coaches Association.

The Coaching Staff

BEATTIE FEATHERS, Head Coach

Beattie Feathers will inaugurate his eighth season as head football coach at North Carolina State with the opening of the 1951 season, establishing a new record in longevity for a Wolfpack mentor. During his tenure on the West Raleigh campus, Feathers' popularity has increased with each season. His present contract runs through the 1953 season.

Very few college coaches in the nation can boast the Feathers' background as an outstanding player in both collegiate and professional circles. Although many mentors have served longer as coaches, probably no more than a handful can claim 15 years of actual participation in the game, which Feathers achieved with four years of high school play, four years in collegiate circles and seven seasons in the professional ranks.

During his career as a player Feathers' achieved the top selection in each of his three divisions. As a prep schooler he was all-state Virginia as a backfield star at Bristol (Va.) High, at the University of Tennessee he was a unanimous All-America pick during the 1933 season, and with the Chicago Bears in 1934 he was named to the first All-Professional team, tantamount to the professional All-America.

Feathers gained wide acclaim as a college star, but gained even more recognition as a professional ball-carrier. During the 1934 season he set a pro football record by gaining 1,026 yards for an average of nearly 10 yards per carry from scrimmage. That record stood until Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles cracked it in 1949. Besides a five-year stretch with the Chicago Bears, Feathers also performed in the play-for-pay ranks with the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Green Bay Packers.

In 1940 Feathers gave up the playing side of the gridiron to join the coaching ranks as assistant at Applachian State Teachers College in Boone, N. C. After two years as an assistant Feathers was named head coach in 1942 and his Mountaineer team won seven of 10 games. In 1943 Feathers moved to Raleigh where he was hired as an assistant to Williams (Doc) Newton. The following year in 1944 when Newton resigned to take a coaching position at the University of South Carolina, Feathers was selected as head coach of the Wolfpack by the State Athletic Council.

Although he had to put together a representative squad from a crew of World War II draft rejects and youngsters who had little experience, that first Feathers-coached team rolled up a remarkable record of seven wins in nine contests. The next year with even the 4F's missing the Wolfpack won only two of nine games.

But in 1946 with a brand new team composed of war veterans the Wolfpack bounced back into the major college football picture and State soared to a ranking among the top 10 clubs in the country as the Feathersmen copped eight out of 10 contests and whipped such outstanding teams as Duke, Wake Forest, Virginia, Florida and Maryland. The great success was followed by a bid to the 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Florida where State dropped a 34-13 decision to the Oklahoma Sooners.

During his seven-year rein over the Wolfpack destinies Feathers has become widely known for his ability to pull at least one major upset during a season. Even during the lean years of 1948 and 1949 when State elevens could win only a combined total of six contests, the Wolfpack succeeded in holding a highly-favored Duke team to a scoreless tie and licking Wake Forest by a remarkable 27-14 count in the '49 season when most of the experts had favored the deacons by at least 18 points.

Last year with one of the smallest squads in State gridiron history (34 men) the Wolfpack continued its reputation as "giant-killers." After losing to top-ranked North Carolina, Clemson and Duke, State bounced back for four consecutive triumphs, including an amazing 16-13 upset over the University of Maryland which knocked the Terrapins from a fifth ranked position in the nation. Another highlight of the year was the 6-6 deadlock with Wake Forest's Demon Deacons, a team favored by 14 points in the pre-game betting. State moved 80 yards with just two minutes to play in the contest to gain the deadlock.

Feathers has proven to be one of the most popular mentors in the history of the college. Only one other State coach, Doc Newton, has served as long as seven seasons as head football coach of the Wolfpack, and Feathers, beginning his eighth year this season, will set a new record for length of service.

Although Feathers' record with the Wolfpack of 33 wins against 31 losses and four ties is not among the best in the nation, this record has been compiled against the best opposition in the Southern Conference, one of the toughest leagues in the country. Each year the Wolfpack has met a minimum of seven conference opponents and no one can accuse Feathers of taking on a "taylor-made" schedule.

During his seven years at State the Wolfpack boss has never been defeated by all three other members of the Big Four—Duke, North Carolina and Wake Forest, three of the nation's leading football powers. Each year he has managed, despite adversity, to whip or tie at least one of these three old-time foes. No other coach in the compact Big Four can boast such a mark over seven seasons.

An amiable, easy-going sort of fellow, Feathers has a host of admirers all over the Southern Conference area. His football teams are always respected and his ability to win friends has endeared him to college alumni and friends alike.

The Wolfpack coach is the father of three lovely girls and he and Mrs. Feathers make their home in Cary, N. C.

HORACE (Horse) HENDRICKSON

Backfield Coach and Chief Scout

Newest addition to the Wolfpack coaching staff is Horace Hendrickson, former Duke University football star, who takes over as backfield coach and chief scout. Hendrickson assumed his new duties August 1, 1951.

COACH HORACE HENDRICKSON

Hendrickson has a wealth of experience on the gridiron. After a colorful career at Duke as quarterback under Coach Wallace Wade's 1933 Southern Conference champions, "Horse" was retained as assistant freshman football coach at the Methodist institution until 1937 when he was named athletic director and head football coach at Elon College. Hendrickson remained at Elon until 1942 winning two North State Conference football titles. In 1942 Hendrickson moved to the University of Pennsylvania where he served as backfield coach under George Munger through 1948.

During Hendrickson's tenure at Penn the Quakers captured the Ivy League football championship each season. At Penn Hendrickson also served as head baseball coach. In 1948 Hendrickson joined Carl Voyles on the staff of the professional Brooklyn Dodgers as backfield coach and chief scout. "Horse" remained with Brooklyn until the Dodger football team was dissolved and in 1949 he returned to Duke where he was head coach of all freshmen teams. Hendrickson's frosh squads at Duke were among the best in the Southern Conference.

Besides his football know-how, Hendrickson is a first-rate basketball and baseball coach. At Elon College the popular Beaver Falls, Pa. native won two North State Conference basketball championships and two baseball titles. At Duke as an undergraduate Hendrickson was a star third baseman under Coach Jack Coombs and was a regular on the basketball squad under Coach Eddie Cameron. During his senior year he was one of the few men in Duke athletic history to earn three varsity monograms.

Hendrickson's early career in athletics began at Kiski Institute when he was a top flight star in football, baseball and basketball. After his prep school graduation he entered Duke in the fall of 1930. He was a member of Coach Wallace Wade's first Blue Devil team in 1931 and in 1933 starred in Duke's 10-2 upset victory over Tennessee.

Coach Hendrickson will confine his duties to football at State, but is certain to be a close follower of baseball and basketball teams. Hendrickson and his wife, the former Gene Swartz, expect to make their home in Raleigh in the near future. The Hendrickson's have two sons, Dick, eleven, and James, three.

ALBERT ROTELLA, Line Coach

A native of Paterson, N. J. and University of Tennessee alumnus, 200-pound Al Rotella has held forth as Wolfpack line coach for the past three years, joining the State staff at the beginning of the 1948 season.

LINE COACH AL ROTELLA
N. C. State

Jovial, smiling, Al has turned in a topnotch job grooming State's forwards on both offense and defense. He has earned the respect of more experienced coaches over the Southern Conference and has worked tirelessly, often under handicaps caused by the lack of manpower, to turn out some of the best sets of linemen in State College history.

Rotella learned his football under Gen. Bob Neyland at the University of Tennessee where he served for four seasons. He came directly to the Wolfpack coaching staff after his graduation at Tennessee and with the personal recommendation of Gen. Neyland.

Rotella entered Tennessee in 1943 after starring for three years at Paterson (N. J.) High. His playing career was interrupted by World War II, but after his discharge he returned in 1946 and 1947 to see service in the Volunteer line.

During World War II Rotella saw combat service with the 38th Regiment of the famed 2nd Division. He was wounded in action in the Battle of the Bulge in December, 1944.

A popular figure, Rotella is a fun-loving, easy-going, hard-worker. He is particularly proud of one of his fellow-townsmen, Tackle Elmer Costa of Paterson, N. J., whom he has groomed into an All-America lineman. It was Rotella who persuaded Costa to give up a job as a truck driver in Paterson to enroll at State in 1948. Costa last year was named to the first-team All-Players All-America selected annually by the Chicago Tribune and he is a leading All-America candidate this season.

Rotella is married and he and his wife, Mary, and their two sons, Allie and James Patrick, make their home in Raleigh. Al is active in the civic life of the community and is a member of the Elks Club and has taken an interest in boys' work, having coached a local midget-league baseball team during the past summer.

DICK PEACOCK, Assistant Line Coach

A graduate in Textiles at State, Dick Peacock, is one of two former Wolfpack stars on the coaching staff. Dick, a native of Lexington, N. C., played center under Coach Beattie Feathers in 1946 and 1947 following his discharge from the Army Air Corps where he served as a bomber pilot.

Prior to his entry into the service Peacock played two seasons under Coach Gordon (Chubby) Kirkland at Catawba College at Salisbury, N. C. He transferred to State after the war in order to go into Textiles.

Peacock became State's first full-time freshman football coach after World War II when he was named to that post in 1949. His team won three games and lost two. Last season Peacock moved up to the varsity as assistant line coach and he will serve in that capacity again during the coming season.

Well-versed in the Wolfpack style of line-play Peacock works primarily with the State centers on both offense and defense. He also aids Line Coach Al Rotella with other line positions.

Last season Peacock's accurate scouting of State's opponent proved a big factor in the winning of several games. His report on Maryland's Terrapins was regarded by Coach Feathers as one of the big reasons why the Wolfpack scored a surprising upset victory.

Coach Peacock is married to the former May Pleasant of Raleigh.

DICK PEACOCK
N. C. State Line Coach

GWYNN FLETCHER, Assistant Backfield Coach

Named to the State staff during the past summer, Gwynn Fletcher, a native of Barium Springs, N. C., starred for three seasons at tailback for Coach Beattie Feathers Wolfpack from 1946 through 1948. He is a graduate of State in Industrial and Rural Recreation.

Gwynn enrolled at State in 1946 after a hitch in the Navy during World War II. Prior to entering service he played freshman football at Davidson College. Fletcher understudied Tailback Howard Turner during the 1946 season and performed brilliantly as both runner and passer. Despite a hand injury following the 1946 season which kept him out of the 'Gator Bowl game in Jacksonville, Fla., Fletcher came back in 1947 to spearhead the Wolfpack team to five wins, and a tie in nine games.

For the past two seasons Fletcher has acted as an assistant freshman football coach. This year he steps up to the varisty squad and will handle general assignments, concentrating primarily on work with the Wolfpack backfield and helping Coach Feathers. Fletcher is a welcomed addition to the State staff. His knowledge of the Wolfpack style of play is expected to prove valuable to the squad.

Coach Fletcher is married and he and his wife make their home in Raleigh.

THOMAS FITZGIBBONS, Head Trainer and Cross Country Coach

Tom Fitzgibbons, a native of Milwaukee, Wisc., is a familiar figure around State's athletic teams. He was appointed head trainer and track and cross country coach in June, 1949 and has posted a brilliant record.

Coming to State from George Washington High, Alexandria, Va., where he was trainer and track coach, Fitzgibbons has turned out some of the best cinder teams in the college's history along with his duties as trainer. His 1949 and 1950 cross country squads were undefeated in Big Four competition and his track teams have been impressive.

Fitzgibbons has an outstanding knowledge of administering treatment for athletic injuries. He has kept players on the field during the past two seasons where a less experienced man might have failed. His ability at repairing bruised muscles and pulled tendons has meant much to State's football effort at a time when manpower was of extreme importance.

The 46-year old "Fitz" is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he took a B.S. degree in physical education. After his graduation he served for a long period at the University of Toledo under Dr. C. W. Spears, one of the nation's most brilliant college trainers. During his undergraduate days at Wisconsin he served as an assistant trainer to T. C. Jones, long-time trainer of Wisconsin athletic teams.

During World War II Fitzgibbons served with the Medical Corps for two years. Most of his duties were as an instructor for a medical detachment. Following his discharge from the service Fitzgibbons took up the post at Alexandria, Va., where he turned out three Virginia state championship track squads.

This fall Fitzgibbons will have a dual job, handling State's training table and keeping Coach Feathers squad fit for its 10-game schedule and coaching the Wolfpack cross-country team.

WOLFPACKAGES . . .

(Brief notes on 1951 football candidates, alphabetical by positions.)

THE ENDS

*ALLMAN, Bernard—5-11, 195 pounds. Senior. Parkersburg, W. Va. Veteran letterman and one of the squad's best defensive performers. Converted from blocking back in sophomore season. Hampered by knee injury last year, but apparently in top shape for '51. All-State and member of West Virginia All-Star team as prep schooler in 1946-47. Played in North-South annual game in West Virginia. Lettered for four seasons in high school. 22-years old. Should be regular this year.

*BUTLER, David—6-1, 180 pounds. Junior. Fayetteville, N. C. One of team's best offensive stars and great pass receiver. Likes it rough and tough and is used frequently on defense. Selected both All-State and All-Conference as prep schooler. Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Butler, 215 Windsor Drive, Fayetteville. Studying Textiles. Likely to be one of team's top ends this season.

CROW, Marvin—6-2, 188 pounds. Sophomore. Lexington, N. C. Up from freshman squad. Likely will be used as relief performer if improves as blocker. Good Pass receiver. Played in East-West North Carolina All-Star game in 1949. Named to All-Conference football team in high school. Studying Textiles. 18-years old.

JONES, Harold—6-2, 200 pounds. Sophomore. Charlotte, N. C. Best offensive end on last year's freshman squad, excellent pass receiver. Needs work on blocking, but likely will see some action as season progresses. Outstanding high schooler three-letterman in football, baseball and basketball at Harding High, Charlotte. Named to All-City and All-State teams. Named Charlotte "Athlete of Year." 21-years old. Studying Textiles.

*KOSILLA, Steve—6-1½, 180 pounds. Junior. Tarrytown, N. Y. Out of school last year because of scholastic difficulties, Kosilla returns to bolster the '51 squad. He was standout as sophomore in '49 and likely will be regular performer this season. Great pass receiver. 22-years old. Earned monogram in '49 and caught four touchdown passes, two against Duke. Lettered three years in high school, also in baseball and track. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation.

SMITH, Paul—5-11, 190 pounds. Sophomore. South Charleston, W. Va. Rugged defensive performer on frosh team last year and certain to play in '51. Outstanding high school athlete, three-sport letterman. Can play both offense and defense and only needs experience to become standout. Studying Textiles. 19-years old.

THOMPSON, Jack—5-11, 180 pounds. Sophomore. Buffalo, N. Y. Another promising newcomer who'll see action as reserve in '51. Is rough defensive man and can hold his own on offense. One of the better blockers on team. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 20-years old.

THE GUARDS

*BAGONIS, Vince—5-11, 200 pounds. Senior. Luzerne, Pa. Regular for the past two seasons, Vince is certain to play a major role in the Wolfpack hopes for '51. Rugged blocker on offense and a tough defensive competitor. Selected All-State team last year and will bid strongly for All-Southern honors this season. Has plenty of stamina and can go 60 minutes if necessary. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 20-years old. Catcher on baseball squad.

BAGONIS, John—5-11, 190 pounds. Freshman. Luzerne, Pa. Younger brother of Vince, and following in his footsteps as a guard for the Wolfpack. Has great deal of promise and probably will be among the few freshmen candidates to see action this season. Plenty of speed and is good blocker. Captain of prep school team. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 18-years old.

*COX, William—5-11, 180 pounds. Junior. Knoxville, Tenn. Earned monogram as sophomore last year and probably will be one of key men in Wolfpack plans this season. Has speed to burn on offense and can hit hard. Standout star at Knoxville High for four years. 22-years old. Studying Textiles. Might earn starting job before season is over.

FREDERICK, Ronald—5-10, 193 pounds. Freshman. Paterson, N. J. Outstanding freshman candidate who may see some varsity action. Starred three years at Paterson (Central) High and St. Benedicts Preparatory. Selected All-Conference, All-Essex County, All-State. 18-years old. Good competitor. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation.

*KENNEDY, Bill—5-10, 195-pounds. Junior. Fayetteville, N. C. Earned letter as sophomore and will be counted on a chief relief performer in '51. Has good aggressive spirit. All-State high schooler. Studying Civil Engineering. 20-years old.

KAPP, Ben—5-10, 195 pounds. Sophomore. Paterson, N. J. Exhibited ability as freshman last year and improved steadily in spring drills. May have battle to see much action ahead of lettermen, but has the goods to produce. Lettered three years in high school. Light-heavyweight boxing champion of Passaic, N. J. in Golden Gloves. Studying Industrial Arts. 18-years old.

*NICHOLSON, John—5-11, 180-pounds. Junior. Raleigh, N. C. Lettered as sophomore and will be important reserve in '51. Can develop into one of better linemen on team with more hard work. Selected All-Eastern team as prep schooler at Needham Broughton High, Raleigh. Studying Mechanical Engineering. 20-years old.

*SCHACHT, Walter—5-9, 190 pounds. Senior. Alexandria, Va. Undoubtedly one of the stars on the '51 team, Schacht is an outstanding offensive and defensive performer. Will be a leading All-Southern candidate in the tradition of his predecessors at guard for the Wolfpack, (Musser, Watts, etc.) An outstanding campus leader and student. President of N. C. State Monogram Club and member of Athletic Council. Built low to the ground and drives like a tank. 23-years old. Studying Textiles. Marine Corps veteran.

THE TACKLES

*BEAVER, Fred—6-2½, 210 pounds. Senior. Asheville, N. C. Powerfully built and a hard-hitter on defense, Beaver has improved consistently during his three previous seasons with the Wolfpack. Last season he saw plenty of action and will be counted on strongly again in '51. Good blocker and tackler. All-State in high school and played in Shrine Bowl game at Charlotte. Studying Textiles. 22-years old.

*BRITT, J. C.—6-3, 200 pounds. Junior. Fayetteville, N. C. Brilliant as a guard last year, Britt has been converted to tackle, but may play either position, depending on the situation. Named Associated Press "Sophomore of the Week" for brilliant line play against Wake Forest last season. Rough and aggressive, Britt is one of the standouts in the State forward wall. Certain to be key man. Named All-Southern and All-State in high school. Studying Textiles.

*COSTA, Elmer—6-1, 215 pounds. Senior. Paterson, N. J. Undoubtedly one of the greatest linemen in the history of the Southern Conference, big Elmer made numerous All-America selections last year, including the first-team All-Players, All-America named by the Chicago Tribune. Costa is a terrific ball-player in every respect. Handles offensive and defensive assignments equally as well and has on more than one occasion gone entire distance in crucial games for the Wolfpack. Has amazing speed for his size and is regarded as one of the best professional football prospects ever turned out at State. Due to an error in the college football program last year, Costa was listed as a senior and because of this was on the draft list of no less than five professional teams last season. Last year he was acclaimed all over for his great, slashing line play. Selected "Lineman of the Week" for the entire nation by the Associated Press, Oct. 21, 1950 for his part in State's amazing 16-13 upset of highly-favored Maryland when he recovered three fumbles and personally halted at least three drives inside State's five-yard line. Voted by squad as "Most Valuable Player" last season. Will conclude his collegiate career this season and is already one of the top candidates in the nation for All-America selection. Barring injury "Elmer" should wind up his State career in a blaze of glory. Studying Industrial and Rural Recreation. 25-years old. Navy veteran.

DeHART, William—6-1, 260 pound. Sophomore. Bryson City, N. C. Despite his size DeHart is a promising candidate at tackle. He carries his weight well and moves with amazing speed. Outstanding high school player, selected on North Carolina All-Star squad. Will need experience, but may develop later in season. Studying Agriculture. 20-years old.

DEW, Paul—6-1, 205 pounds. Junior. Bailey, N. C. Reserve from last year year Dew may be used a bit more frequently this season. Knows system and has ability although needs more experience. Prepped at Wilson High School and lettered in football and basketball. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 21-years old.

*HILLMAN, Jim—6-3, 240 pounds. Junior. Kane, Pa. Biggest of the tackle veterans, Jim will be counted on strongly this season. Lettered as sophomore and showed plenty of savvy. Hits hard and is best as defensive lineman.

Likely will specialize on defense this year, although he can play offensive football. Certain to see plenty of action. Lettered four years at Kane High, also in track and basketball two years. Navy veteran. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 26-years old.

*SWART, William—6-2, 220 pounds. Senior. Wilmington, N. C. Turned in some top performances last season and is key man in plans for '51. Has speed and weight to stand tough grind in forward wall and is improving steadily. Blocks very well on offense and probably will specialize on offense this year. Prepped at New Hanover High winning letters in 1945-46. Studying Horticulture. 23-years old.

THE CENTERS

*TOFAUTE, Tom—6-2, 215 pounds. Senior. Yorkville, Ohio. Veteran at the pivot, Tofaute has three years of experience behind him with two letters. One of the best defensive line backers ever to play center at State, Tom is the top man at his position for the Wolfpack this year. He is a good offensive ball-snapper and seldom makes bad passes. Is rough and rugged and loves the game. Plays both offense and defense. Should be leading candidate for All-Southern providing injuries do not hamper his play. Can hold his own with the best in the conference. Earned four high school letters at center at Yorkville High. Marine Corps veteran. Studying Industrial and Rural Recreation. 22-years old.

PIERCE, Junior—6-2, 200 pounds. Sophomore. Plymouth, N. C. Probably the top sophomore on the '51 squad, Pierce was the backbone of the freshman line last year. Has promise of becoming one of the greatest pivot men in history of the college and is certain to play big role behind Tofaute at center this season. Has plenty of know-how backing up line and is good ball-snapper. Very aggressive and likes it rough and tough. Standout at Plymouth High for three years. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 19-years old.

MUELLER, Ralph—6-0, 205 pounds. Sophomore. Paterson, N. J. Understudied Pierce on frosh squad last year and likely will see some action as reserve this season. Has size to become good pivot man and is good line backer. Only needs more experience to become important relief man. Three-year letterman in high school. Studying Industrial Arts Education. 18-years old.

FLEMING, Bob—5-11, 160 pounds. Senior. Greenville, N. C. Probably has more guts and determination for man of his size than any one on squad. Has seen little varsity action in past three years, but is hard worker. Outstanding Greenville High athlete. 20-years old. Studying Agriculture and Biological Chemistry. Excellent student.

BATTAGLIA, Fred—5-11, 210 pounds. Sophomore. Niagara Falls, N. Y. Saw service on freshman squad as line backer and may be switched to blocking back in early season drills. Hits hard and moves fast. Good man at diagnosing opponents plays. Needs experience, but will improve as season progresses. All-Conference in prep school. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 19-years old.

THE TAILBACKS

BETHUNE, Richard—5-11, 170-pounds. Sophomore. Clinton, N. C. Showed promise as freshman last year, particularly good passer. May be used in spots in '51 and can develop with more experience. Is fast, but lacks size for rugged grind. Standout high school star, selected All-Conference two seasons. Studying Textiles. 20-year old.

GAIER, Gerard—5-9, 181 pounds. Freshman. Passaic, N. J. Great high school prospect, Gaier may have to wait a year before seeing much action with Wolfpack. Set new records as prep school passer, hitting for 14 touchdowns and 1,206 yards. Named All-Conference and All-State (New Jersey). Starred for three years. Studying Textiles. 18-years old.

McCARTER, Hal—5-9, 165 pounds. Freshman. Portsmouth, Va. Another frosh candidate who'll need experience before real value to team can be judged. Is accomplished kicker and passer and was fine high school player. Named All-City (Portsmouth, Va.) and selected Most Valuable Player on squad. Will develop as season progresses and is definitely fine prospect. Studying Textiles. 19-years old.

O'HARA, Paul—5-8, 168-pounds. Sophomore. Niagara Falls, N. Y. One of the toughest little ball players on squad, O'Hara will come along with experience. Looked good in spring practice game and is definite running threat. Standout high school star, earning four letters. 19-years old. Studying Civil Engineering. Excellent student.

*POTTS, Edward (Ted)—5-10, 175 pounds. Junior. Alexandria, Va. One of the key men for '51, Potts is excellent passer and brilliant kicker. Earned monogram as sophomore and packs a lot of wallop on his small frame. Will be looked to as successor to Ed Mooney as Wolfpack passer and has the ability to deliver. Great high school record at Alexandria, Va., named All-Metropolitan (Washington, D. C.), All-Suburban and All-State (Virginia). Studying Civil Engineering (Construction). 20-years old. Good student.

*WEBSTER, Alex—210 pounds, 6-3. Junior. Kearny, New Jersey. One of the brightest backfield prospects in State history, "Big Alex" may be the key to the Wolfpack success in '51. Scored four touchdowns and passes for a fifth in spring practice game and was tabbed for future greatness by all observers. Turned in great job last year as sophomore and got experience necessary to make him top man at tailback this season. Hardest running tailback ever to wear State uniform and can pass and kick when necessary. Averaged nearly 20 yards on each punt return last year and scored three touchdowns. Great high school record, named All-State (New Jersey) All-Metropolitan (Kearny) and All-County. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 20-years old.

THE FULLBACKS

*O'ROURKE, James—6-0, 175 pounds. Senior. Pittsburgh, Pa. Captain of the 1951 team, O'Rourke is one of the best men for his size in the Southern Conference. Last year he averaged nearly four yards per try on 117 carries from scrimmage. As a pass receiver, he is the top man on the team. Jim can also throw the football, which was proved last year when his 70-yard pitch enabled State to tie Wake Forest 6-6. It was the only time Jim threw all season, but it was a deadly accurate pitch. O'Rourke is also one of the team's best defensive men, and is particularly good against opponents passes. He'll be a top man for State in '51 and will be used on both offense and defense. He is proof-positive that it doesn't take a 200-pound frame to play topnotch fullback. Studying Civil Engineering. Army veteran. 24-years old.

SUDA, George—5-10, 188 pounds. Sophomore. Wilkes Barre, Pa. Definitely the top backfield candidate among the rising sophomores, Suda has speed and power and is one of the best defensive line backers seen on last year's frosh club. Suda definitely has a major role in State's '51 plans and will see plenty of action. 20-years old. A player to watch. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation.

*YEATES, Harvey—6-1, 220 pounds. Junior. Buffalo, N. Y. Rough and tough describes big Harvey who plays the game right down to the hilt. He can move with amazing speed for a man of his size and is adept at backing up the Wolfpack line. May be used more frequently on offense this season, although he was strictly a defensive specialist last year. Harvey does everything well and is one of the best liked men on the current squad. Studying Industrial Recreation. 21-years old. Married.

THE WINGBACKS

FRAUENHOFER, Chris—5-10, 185 pounds. Sophomore. Buffalo, N. Y. Saw some service last year as freshman, but will need experience to become regular. Has speed and is good pass receiver. Likely will be used chiefly in relief role. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 20-years old.

*MacARTHUR, George—6-0, 180 pounds. Senior. Paterson, N. J. One of the team's best pass defense men and likely will be used exclusively as defensive halfback, although is good pass receiver and knows offensive system well. Earned three previous letters with Wolfpack and is valuable man. Attended Eastside High, Paterson, N. J. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 23-years old.

*SMITH, James—5-8, 175-pounds. Senior. Miami, Fla. "Smitty" is certainly proof that dynamite comes in small packages. Last year he was team's No. 1 wingback and appears certain of retaining that spot in '51. Is good pass receiver and particularly adept on defense. Opponents will find that Jimmy is one of the hardest tacklers for his size in the Southern Conference. Good runner and brilliant in open field. Used primarily on reverses and fakes well. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 22-years old.

SWANGER, Thomas—5-9, 184 pounds. Sophomore. Hamburg, N. Y. Fastest man in the backfield is the title easily earned by Swanger. He does the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds and can really scat. Ran 90 yards to beat Carolina frosh 6-0 last year and is one of the most promising wingbacks on team. Might work up to starting role by mid-season. New York State 440-yard dash champion in high school. All-City (Buffalo, N. Y.) in 1949. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 19-years old.

STEELE, John—5-10, 175 pounds. Sophomore. Indiana, Pa. Johnny quarterbacked the State freshman under the split-T formation last year and turned in an excellent job. Because of his speed, however, he'll move to wingback in the single-wing, but can still be used as passer. Will need experience at new position, but is highly-regarded. Cool-headed under fire. Studying Civil Engineering. 18-years old.

THE BLOCKING BACKS

*BARKOUSKIE, Ray—6-1, 195 pounds. Junior. Kulpmont, Pa. A leading candidate for the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in '51, Ray is one of the best blockers ever developed at State. He packs plenty of power on offense and is a top line backer on defense. A hard-worker, Ray loves the game. His brother earned All-America honors at guard for the University of Pittsburgh. One of the most improved men on current team and will be a thorn in opponents side. Studying Industrial Arts Education. 20-years old. Extra point specialist, booted nine of 12 tries last season.

*KAISER, Vitus—5-11, 185 pounds. Senior, Erie, Pa. It would be a tough job to have to choose between Barkouskie and Kaiser at this position, but there's enough work to go around and the two handle the task brilliantly. Kaiser is chiefly a defensive performer, but can also handle offensive duties. Hampered last year by knee injury, Kaiser will be in top condition for '51. Regular on wrestling squad last year. Played four years of high school football. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 22-years old.

MARTINI, Ralph—5-11, 195 pounds. Sophomore. Niagara Falls, N. Y. Switched from fullback, Martini will give the blocking spot added depth. Has power and is good line backer. Probably will be used in relief roles only until gains additional experience at new position. Has ability and should produce. Three letterman in high school. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation. 19-years old.

WYLES, Carl—5-9, 180 pounds. Sophomore. Buffalo, N. Y. Switched from fullback where he operated in the split-T formation as freshman, Wyles is promising as blocker. Expected to provide reserve strength at blocking post and probably will see some action. Good tackler and backs up line well on defense. Prepped at New Kensington High, Buffalo, N. Y. All-City selection in 1949. Three-sport letterman. Studying Electrical Engineering. Top student. 20-years old.

RIDDICK STADIUM

Aerial view of Riddick Stadium, home site of N. C. State's 1951 football contests. The crowd above was on hand for the 1946 clash between Duke and N. C. State and was estimated at 20,000. Final score, N. C. State 13, Duke 6.

RIDDICK STADIUM

Riddick Stadium, present site of North Carolina State's home football contests, was started in 1907 as an athletic field and the first football contest was played on Sept. 30, 1907 between State and Randolph-Macon.

In 1912 the stadium received its present name when the senior class voted to name the field in honor of Professor W. C. Riddick, who is regarded as the father of athletics at North Carolina State.

Construction of the concrete stands on the west side was begun in the summer of 1916 and during that year football contests were held at Raleigh with Davidson and Wake Forest.

In 1928 the stadium was enlarged and the east stands were completed. The field house and present lighting system were completed during the 1938-39 seasons.

Many changes have taken place in the physical field as it now exists. Once it was level with surrounding ground, but grading and new construction has lowered the present field until it is approximately eight to ten feet below the level of the surrounding earth.

During recent years the large crowds attending contests in Riddick Stadium have forced athletic officials to increase the seating capacity by adding extra bleachers at both ends of the playing field. The structure, which once could care for only 5,000 persons in 1916 can now accommodate a gathering of about 20,000 people.
